SUMMARY OF CAUSE

CAUSE - Confiscated Assets Used for Social Experimentation is the first initiative in Albania and the Western Balkan countries that created a model of sustainable re-use of confiscated assets from organised crime by civil society organisations, as a valid tool to reaffirm the value of legality and citizens' actions against organised crime.

CAUSE was designed based on the belief that the reuse of confiscated assets from organised crime presents a clear opportunity to change an economic paradigm and to show that the legal economy can be more efficient than the illegal one, putting together the public interest and the economic sustainability.

Applying an innovative approach, focused on the promotion and development of the culture of social entrepreneurship and fight against organised crime, CAUSE provided opportunities, skills and financial support to CSOs for the establishment of a social enterprise in a confiscated asset from organised crime.

CAUSE managed to transform three confiscated assets from organised crime in three different cities of Albania into environments that provide:

- Education, employment and integration opportunities for marginalised groups affected or in risk to be affected by organised crime;
- Products and services for citizens;
- Social, cultural and awareness raising activities for the community.

This publication presents the main components and achievements of CAUSE. It provides data and figures on its beneficiaries, information on the sub-granting scheme, impact, and testimonials from partners, collaborators and beneficiaries.

CAUSE IMPACT

CAUSE defeated the scepticism and changed the mentality and approach of state institutions toward the administration of confiscated assets. The new legal framework regulating the work of the AAPSK is influenced by its involvement and experience with CAUSE, the AAPSK is willing and prepared to institutionalise its collaboration with CSOs, and even though not specified in the law, the social reuse of confiscated assets is the priority option of the AAPSK for their administration, against the option of sale as used to be before CAUSE.

CAUSE transmitted a strong political message that what is stolen by the community can be returned to the community, through the courage and strength of civil society actors that challenged the state institutions and showed that they are a trustworthy partner in the fight against organised crime and the reintegration of its victims in their communities.

CAUSE demonstrated the social, economic and political values of the social reuse of confiscated assets by CSOs, a practice that considering the limited financial resources of CSOs, could be consolidated with the financial support of donors' community preserving and respecting its local ownership.

CAUSE is a flagship initiative in Albania and the Western Balkan Countries with the potential to be transformed into a regional program in the social reuse of confiscated assets from organised crime under the leadership of local organisations.

"We have proved that civil society has the courage to strongly engage in the fight against organised crime."

Juliana Hoxha
Director of Partners Albania

TESTIMONIALS

"We strongly believe in the social re-use of confiscated assets from organised crime.

The real value behind the CAUSE project is the public perception that organised crime can be fought and won; and what is stolen by the organised crime goes back to the society. I think this is the concept of the project."

H.E. Mr. Luigi Soreca
Ambassador of the Delegation of the EU to Albania

"Before the CAUSE project, assets sale has been an option until these social projects initiated. CAUSE has drastically changed the Agency's priorities."

Artur Kala
Head Administrator
AASCA

"Thanks to the courage of these organisations that have a social dimension and even a limited budget, we can build an alternative economy that can develop an antidote to criminal organisations."

Michele Mosca
Comitato Don Pepe Diana and Naples University "Federico II"

"The best way to promote this activity is to give to people success stories. Once there is someone who succeeded doing, we can always say: look at him, he did it! And so, you can do it too!"

Marco Traversi
Project Ahead

TESTIMONIALS

"In November 2017 we participated in a training session for the re-use of confiscated assets from organised crime. We visited the asset on the same day. It was a totally dark and abandoned place. We reflected on it because it was a heavy and risky task. But, we decided to keep on going."

Roberto d'Amato
Project Coordinator
ENGIM Internazionale

"We faced the first barriers from the staff related with the fact that we had to deal with a confiscated asset. Everybody was saying that we won't implement this project. Others even questioned the need for being involved with such an asset. But someone has to start doing it. So we prepared and submitted the proposal."

Nensi Dragoti
FASh

TESTIMONIALS

"I have to work to attend my studies and finance them. The project seemed quite good, serving citizens and students and offering vocational education trainings and courses that I could attend. I would be eager to continue my engagement in this great project as it has helped me greatly so far."

Enio Bleta
Waiter at Kinfolk Coffee Library

"All women and girls have very good relations at the work place. We are given a chance and a very good opportunity to keep us moving forward, boost our creativity and invest in ourselves."

Aleksandra Mazaj
Artisan at Social Crafting Garage

"A year ago I started working as a pastry helper at KeBuono! pastry. This perfectly organised and friendly environment has made me experience a remarkable year, full of surprises and achievements. We went through vocational education for four months, thanks to which I learned many new techniques. I am truly happy!"

Besnike Kume
Pastry Chef at KeBuono! Social Pastry

"This social enterprise will bring them hope and strength to stop violence."
